Education Law Association and its authors

Founded in 1954, the Education Law Association is a nonprofit, non-advocacy member association that seeks to improve education by promoting interest in and understanding of the legal framework of education and the rights of students, parents, school boards, and school employees.

Both authors and editors who collaborate on ELA publications include many of the best-known experts in their fields: deans, professors of education or law, school administrators, and attorneys specializing in education law.

Recent Publications from ELA

Administrators' Guide to Employment Law and Personnel Management in Schools

Mark A. Paige and Adam Ross Nelson, editors

No. 99 in ELA's K-12 Series
Softcover, 224 pages
ISBN: 978-1-56534-186-9
ELA Members: $29.24 Retail: $44.99

This reference on the important topics of educational employment law and personnel management provides practical, up-to-date information for current and aspiring school administrators, as well as school law attorneys and professors of education law.

Many of the authors have rich experience acquired from serving in multiple educational and legal roles through the course of their careers. The book draws heavily from chapters adapted from the Education Law Association's popular The Principal's Legal Handbook 6th Edition, but goes several steps further. It includes a comprehensive review of federal anti-discrimination laws, as well as providing several hypothetical cases intended to serve as learning platforms to apply legal concepts.

The Principal's Legal Handbook, 6th Edition

Janet R. Decker, Maria M. Lewis, Elizabeth A. Shaver, Ann E. Blankenship Knox, and Mark Paige, editors

No. 96 in ELA's K-12 Series
Softcover, 840 pages (2017)
ISBN: 978-1-56534-178-4
ELA Members: $55.24 Retail: $84.99

Ideal textbook and reference book covers every important topic facing administrators today in one convenient, easy-to-use package that provides top quality and value. More than 60 authors offer 38 chapters with vital information, case law, and recommendations for practice in four areas: Students and the Law, Special Education and the Law, Teachers and the Law, and Schools and the Law. Each chapter has individual endnotes, a case listing, and key words.

The four sections also are offered separately in ebook format only, priced at $24.99 (order online):

Students and the Law - ISBN 978-1-56534-179-1
Special Education and the Law - ISBN 978-1-56534-180-7

Legal Issues of Faith-based and Other Nonpublic Schools

7th Edition of the former Legal Problems of Religious and Private Schools, by Ralph D. Mawdsley
Charles J. Russo and Steve Permut, editors

No. 98 in ELA's K-12 Series
Softcover, 368 pages (2018)
ISBN: 978-1-56534-184-5
ELA Members: $48.74 Retail: $74.99

The edition updates and adds further information to six previous editions of Legal Problems of Religious and Private Schools, by ELA Past President Ralph Mawdsley, first published in 1983 and, most recently, in 2012.

Under the editorial leadership of Charles J. Russo (lead editor) and Steve Permut (editor), the new edition features changes beyond a slightly altered title. New chapters added to the traditional core of the text include the history of religious and private schools, state aid, school finance, and emerging issues. Leaders and advisors of religious, private, or other nonpublic schools will find this book helpful in taking preventive measures to keep their schools out of court.

Many print books are available as ebooks. Order ebooks online through Amazon, or our website will redirect you there (no member discounts). Save on print books by ordering from ELA.

A Guide to Special Education Law

Elizabeth Shaver & Janet Decker, editors

No. 97 in ELA's K-12 Series

Softcover, 340 pages (2017)

ISBN: 978-1-56534-183-8

ELA Members: $32.49 Retail: $49.99

Qualified authors provide up-to-date information and guide readers through the complex maze of legal considerations affecting special education. Practical advice—including explanations of legislation, terminology, and the effects of legal cases—is offered in nontechnical language. In addition to chapters ranging from the basics of law, through specific applications, through a review of current issues, the book provides an appendix with edited presentations of fifteen important U.S. Supreme Court decisions on special education.

Religion and Law in Public Schools

Steve Permuth (Editor-in-Chief); Susan Silver, Ralph D. Mawdsley, Charles J. Russo (Editors); Dustin Robinson (Research Associate)

No. 95 in ELA's K-12 Series, 568 pages (2017)

Softcover ISBN: 978-1-56534-175-3
(also available in hardcover)

ELA Members: $29.24 Retail: $44.99

An informative and dynamic series of articles, essays, and discussion questions from nearly thirty authors, concerning religion in public primary/secondary schools and universities. The text covers the background of religion's influence in public schools in the United States, the development of legal precedent as courts have ruled on First Amendment religion clause cases, as well as historical, contemporary, and future issues facing educational administration, in three sections: History, Philosophy, and Trends; Educational Practices; and The Trump Administration – Looking Ahead. In this final section, authors expand upon their chapters and present their personal opinions, representing a variety of perspectives.

Case Studies in Higher Education: The Law and Administrative Decision Making

Susan G. Clark and Sandra C. Coyner, editors

Softcover 152 pages (2016)

ISBN: 978-1-56534-174-6

ELA Members: $32.49 Retail: $49.99

A great addition to any current text, this collection by multiple authors focuses on the functional areas of higher education administration. The book serves as an academic teaching tool and administrative reference, offering for each of six topical areas a theoretical overview, relevant legal implications, and a case study application.

Contemporary Issues in Higher Education Law, 3rd Edition (4th Edition Coming in 2019)

Richard Fossey and Suzanne Eckes, editors

Hardcover, 613 pages (2015) ISBN: 978-1-56534-168-5

ELA Members: $51.99 Retail: $79.99

This is an excellent resource for courses in higher education law, providing board members, administrators, faculty, and students with a basis for informed decision making that will reduce the risk of liability through a preventive-law approach. The latest edition—which contains a new chapter on religious colleges and universities—reflects trends in the law, details current case law on a particular subject, and provides guidance on institutional policy for both public and private higher education institutions. Instructors who use the book as a textbook may request a separate testing guide with answers, as well as a sample course syllabus.
