

Professors, attorneys, administrators, teachers, consultants, law and graduate students can keep informed, improve their legal literacy, network with peers, benefit their students, and advance their careers through membership and participation in the Education Law Association

A practical, reliable, and unbiased source of information on education law for more than 65 years

ELA's Mission

To promote interest in and the understanding of the legal framework of education and the rights of students, parents, school boards, and school employees in primary, secondary, and post-secondary institutions.

Education Law Association

Temporary Mailing Address as of March 2020:
P.O. Box 45593, Westlake, OH 44145-9998

Offices are closed; please do not phone or fax.
E-mail: ela@educationlaw.org

The 'Big Tent' in the Education Law Field

Our diverse professional community—which includes attorneys, public and private school administrators in K-12 and higher education, faculty and graduate students in colleges of education and law, school board members, and active teachers—anticipates trends in education law and supports scholarly research through high-value print and electronic publications, conferences, seminars, and professional forums.

Reduced Annual Conference registration fees

For decades, our annual conference has brought together professionals interested in education law and provided a forum to discuss current issues with experts from around the world. Earn CLE credits, make contacts, and enhance your resume by being a presenter.

Special membership rates for first-timers, students, and seniors

Professionals in their first year as ELA members get an introductory rate. Student memberships may be held for up to three years by students taking six-plus credit hours. Members aged 65 and up get a senior discount.

Members save on ELA print publications

ELA publishes economical and informative print and ebooks on education law topics, written by distinguished leaders in their fields. These are commonly used as textbooks, case references, and as legal information sources for administrators. Visit the bookstore online at educationlaw.org for print books (note that access to print book sales may be limited during the COVID-19 health emergency). ELA ebooks are now sold through Amazon.com.

Free admission to live webinars

Members receive free admission to webinars addressing timely topics.

Publishing opportunities

Write, co-write, or edit a book, monograph, Education Law Into Practice article, case summary or commentary.

Members-only access to information resources

- ELA Weekly member e-newsletter featuring association and member news, professional opportunities, links to teaching aids, recent case summaries, and other education law news
- Online resources such as archives, a membership directory, and webinars
- Digital periodicals including School Law Reporter, with case commentaries, analysis, and Education Law Into Practice articles

Participation in a uniquely diverse, welcoming, and collegial fellowship of scholars and practitioners

Be sure to renew your membership each year, and tell your colleagues about ELA!